Character Creation

Get a sheet of paper, or print out a character sheet, to record all of your cracter's details. Make sure to do so in pencil, as these details change over time. If your character sheet ever gets too messy, you can always copy the info to a fresh paper!

1. Note IRL Name and Date

Write your name, and todays date.

2. Ability Scores

Your character has six abilities:

1. Strength
2. Dexterity
3. Constitution
4. Intelligence
5. Wisdom
6. Charisma

Choose either one of these arrays, and assign them however you like to the six abilities.

- 13, 13, 11, 11, 8, 8
- 16, 13, 10, 8, 6, 5

1. Optional: Rolling ability scores.

If you wish, you can instead roll 3d6 seven times and use six of them to create a new array.

3. Choose a Class

There are many classes to choose from. Make sure you meet the requirements for that class. See Classes. If you are new to the game, we reccommend fighter, thief, cleric, or wizard.

Unless you choose a Demihuman class, you are a human.

Note the following:

1. Your HP (health points) is equal to the maximum value of your class's Health Die. (d4=4, d6=6, etc)
2. The types of armor you can use.
3. The types of weapon you can use.

4. If you have 13 or more in your prime requisite, note a 10% xp bonus, or 15% if you have 13 or more in both.
5. Your AV (attack value) is on the progression table. Its usually 19.
6. Your saving throws scores for physical and magic are on the progression table.
7. The xp threshold for level 2.
8. Class abilities and skills.

4. Items and money

You start with 3d6x10 cp in your bank account.

You have a base of ten item slots. One item per slot, heavy takes double, small items fit 5 per slot. Buy items LINK GOES HERE.

1. Armor. Note the AC (armor class) score
2. Weapon. Note the damage die and properties
3. Holy symbol or thieves tools (if applicable)
4. Other supplies such as rations, torches, bandages, sacks, rope, pole, spikes

6. Alignment

Choose whether you are Lawful, Neutral, or Chaotic. This impacts spellcasting and roleplay. Note that some classes have restrictions on which alignment they can be.

Beneath the surface of everyday life, two primeval forces mingle. Their servants see a cosmic harmony permeating the plane, or see only probabilities.

1. Magic

Magic affects creatures differently depending on alignment. Divine spellcasters need to be especially aware of their alignment; lawful casters may upset their deity by casting reversed spells, and vice versa. See LINKKKK for more details.

2. Alignment Language

Creatures automatically recognize a certain set of gestures, signs, and code words, pertaining to their alignment. This allows creatures of common alignment a measure of communication.

Creatures of a different alignment are likely to recognize an alignment language being spoken, but will not understand its content.

3. Revealing Alignment

Players must reveal their alignment to the dungeon master, but are not required to reveal to each other.

4. Role Playing Alignment

If the character acts too far out of their alignment, the referee may require them to change their alignment and suffer a penalty.

5. Changing Alignment

When changing alignment from Lawful or Chaotic, characters lose 10% of their xp.

7. Complete!

If desired, you can name your character. Otherwise, you're done!

Cleric

Requirements: None
Health die: d6

2. Turn Undead

Clerics can invoke the power of their deity to repel undead monsters. To turn the undead, roll 2d6. The Dungeon Master can either tell you the HD of the monster, or consults the table themselves.

If the result is equal to or greater than the number in the table, the monster is turned. At higher levels, some undead may be automatically Turned, or Destroyed.

1. Restrictions

Excess: Rolled Hit Dice that are not sufficient to affect a monster are wasted.

Minimum effect: At least one undead monster will always be affected on a successful turning.

Mixed groups: If the undead are of different types, those with the lowest HD are affected first.

Recharge: A cleric can attempt to turn only once per turn.

2. Turning Table

Turned undead will leave the area, if possible, and will not harm or make contact with the Cleric.

3. Divine Magic

See Magic for full details.

Holy symbol: A cleric must carry a holy symbol to use magic.

Deity disfavor: Clerics must be faithful to the tenets of their alignment, clergy, and religion. Tenets for all clerics include:

- Only using blunt weapons.
- Refusal to buy, sell, or use poisons, including alcohol.
- 10% tithe to the temple.
- Respect of all royalty.

Spell casting: Once a cleric has proven their faith (from 2nd level), the character may pray to receive spells. The power and number of spells available to a cleric are determined by the character's level. Their spell list is found at the bottom of this section.

Once a stronghold is established, the cleric will attract followers (5d6 × 10 fighters of level 1-2). These troops are completely devoted to the cleric, having a loyalty of 12. The referee decides which proportions of followers are 1st and 2nd level and which are bowmen, infantry, etc.

- Climb sheer surfaces (CS): A roll is required for each 100' to be climbed. If the roll fails, the thief falls at the halfway point, suffering fall damage. (1d6 per 10')
- Check Doors (CD): A thief gets a bonus to check doors See Adventure, page 9.
- Open locks (OL): Requires thieves' tools. A thief can only try this skill once per lock. If the roll fails, the thief may not try the same lock again before gaining an experience level.
- Uncanny Stealth (US): A thief can attempt to hide motionless in shadows, or sneak past enemies unnoticed.
- Pick pockets (PP): If the victim is above 5th level, the thief's roll is penalised by 5% for every level above 5th. There is always at least a 1% chance of failure. A roll of more than twice the percentage is required for the theft to be unnoticed.

Monstrous

Monstrous characters face additional challenges:

- They are not welcome in urban areas unless accompanied by a human, elf, or dwarf.
- They can not employ human hirelings.
- They do not automatically know the common language.
- They have a -2 to reaction rolls with non-monsters.
- When in sunlight, they have a +1 to AC, and AV.

600 × 400

Hirelings

There are NPCs that help the party. These include trained animals, human hirelings which can be recruited to carry items and even fight in combat, and henchmen who level and grow like players. You may even be able to persuade monsters, or summon special creatures.

- Use a note card or additional sheet of paper to keep track of hirelings. You can use one card per each, or a large sheet with several.
- Each character can be a boss to a finite number of hirelings determined by renown (as indicated by charisma).
- Hirelings must have fewer hit dice than their boss.
- Hirelings must have their upkeep paid at the start of each session. If the session lasts more than 7 in-game days, upkeep needs to be paid again each 7 days. Monsters with 10 or more loyalty do not need upkeep.
- The boss must provide for rations while traveling, as well as for any new adventuring gear, weapons, or mounts.

1. Loyalty

Hirelings are not mindless slaves. If abused hirelings might desert, mutiny, betray, or slander their boss.

The starting loyalty score of hired hireling is indicated by charisma.

Monsters start with 4 loyalty.

Hirelings might change loyalty during clean up.

Hirelings with two or less loyalty will betray boss, and have a 4-in-6 chance of reducing their renown by one. Monsterous, and chaotic hirelings may cooperate only for a time, betraying their boss once the conditions are right.

1. Loyalty Check

Roll 2d6. The check succeeds if the result is equal to or less than the loyalty score.

2. Peril

Dangerous tasks are perilous. A hireling must succeed a loyalty check or refuse the task. Furthermore, if they take damage or come to any unexpected harm during the task, they lose one loyalty.

Example of peril include: fighting a risky and unnecessary battle, becoming lost in the dungeon, acting as bait, probing unknown objects.

3. Stats

The dungeon master has stats for animals and monsters. Hirelings have an AV of 19, 5 hit points, a physical save of 8, and a magic save of 5.

1. Henchmen

Henchmen are sidekicks which can gain XP and level up like players. There are two ways to gain a henchman:

1. If a hireling survives three sessions, they can become a level 0 henchman.
 2. A NPC can be persuaded to become a player's henchmen through roleplay. The dungeon master will decide what level they start at.
- Henchmen have 10 slots.
 - Henchmen have a d8 hit die, and calculate HP like players.
 - Henchmen go near-death and dismember like players.
 - When a boss gains xp, they can choose to direct up to 50% of that XP to their henchman.

- Instead of upkeep, henchmen are paid with a portion of their boss's treasure. That portion is equal to two divided by their loyalty.
- At 2nd level, they gain one ability. If their boss is a spellcaster, they can memorize one 1st level spell from their boss. Otherwise, they choose one fighter skill.
- At 4th level, they gain a second ability. If their boss is a spellcaster, they can memorize one 2nd level spell from their boss. Otherwise they choose one advanced fighter skill.
